DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure s 1-3 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 9 is written in improper form for U.S. applications. Reference may not be made to the specification or tables therein.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1, 3-5, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Marshall et al. (5,706,061) in view of Shimizu et al. (6,511,183).

Marshall et al. discloses a color projection device comprising:

a light valve (26) for modulating incident light;

an AC light source (14) for generating light containing color components;

an illumination unit (24) for sequentially illuminating the modulator with sequential colored lights.

As noted in Column 8 Lines 11-23, "the switching frequency of the lamp... is much higher than and multiple of the color wheel rotation frequency". Also, in Column 8 Lines 8-10, the DMD light valve addressing signals are is synchronized with the position of the color wheel. Thus, the frequency of the lamp is "related" to the frame rate of the light valve. The pulse generator is "connected" to the color wheel rate and therefore to the video display panel frame rate. See Figure 5

Marshall et al. show the illumination of a light valve using sequential colored lights across the whole of the display.

Art Unit: 2851

Shimizu et al. describe an alternate type of single panel projection system wherein light from an illumination source is used to scroll colors in three simultaneous bars across the surface of a light valve by scanning prisms.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the lamp control of Marshall et al. for use in alternate color changing systems, such as a scrolling system, as taught by Shimizu, in order to avoid color shift bands in those types of systems.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2, 6, 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
